Abbey Road

Abbey Road is the eleventh studio album by English rock band the Beatles, released on 26 September 1969 by Apple Records. The recording sessions for the album were the last in which all four Beatles participated. Although Let It Be was the final album that the Beatles completed before the band's dissolution in April 1970, most of the album had been recorded before the Abbey Road sessions began.<sup>[1]</sup> A two-sided hit single from the album, "Something" backed with "Come Together", released in October, topped the Billboard Hot 100 chart in the US.

Definitely Maybe

Definitely Maybe was an immediate commercial and critical success in the United Kingdom, having followed on the heels of the singles "Supersonic", "Shakermaker", and "Live Forever". The album went straight to number one in the UK Albums Chart, and became the fastest-selling debut album in the UK at the time; it went on to be certified 7× Platinum (2.1 million+ sales) by the BPI.<sup>[4]</sup> Definitely Maybe marked the beginning of Oasis' success in the United States, selling over one million copies there despite only peaking at 58 on the Billboard 200. The album went on to sell over 8 million copies worldwide and brought widespread critical acclaim.

Með suð í eyrum við spilum endalaust

All the lyrics for the album were originally intended to be in English, but in the end the band decided that Icelandic felt more natural to them. Some lyrics were translated back into Icelandic, while some songs got completely new texts.<sup>[16]</sup> It is the band's first album to feature a track sung in English ("All Alright"). The first track on the album, "Gobbledigook", premiered on Zane Lowe's BBC Radio 1 music show in the UK on May 27, 2008. "Festival" was premiered on Colin Murray's Radio 1 show on June 3, 2008. "Inni mér syngur vitleysingur" was used as the theme tune for Colin Murray's Gold Run, which aired on BBC Radio 5 Live during the run-up to the 2012 Summer Olympics.

One modification I made this week is to make the “Add to Playlist” more visual by adding background color to the text. Now the user could easily recognize the button and by clicking it, adding the songs to the playlist.

This week, I changed the left tab navigation. There are 3 new tabs, “Post”, “Cover” and “Recommend”.

Home   Video   Music   Profile   New Post

Morning Glory

I just listen to this song from oasis. Moring Glory is very good

Delete Post

Now we are at the post page. On the top navigation, user could hit the “New Post” button and make new post.

By clicking the “New Post”, there are 2 prompts asking the user to type in the title of the post, and the description of the post. By clicking “OK”, the post will appear on the page.

If we go back to the profile page and click the “Cover” tab, we will be at the cover page.

By clicking on the “Upload Cover” button, the user will be asked to upload file from your local directory.

The user will be asked to type in title and description of your cover. By clicking “OK”, the cover will be uploaded from the local.

The user now could choose to play the cover and then delete the cover as well by clicking the “delete cover” button.
